HISTORY:

Clase Azul is an ultra-premium Tequila made from 100% organic Tequilana Weber Blue Agaves. Literally touched by the human spirit and inspired by traditional Mexican values, each bottles is hand-made and hand-painted by artisans in Santa Maria Canchesdá, Mexico. Making each bottle a unique piece. Every bottle takes 11 days to make by the Mazahua, one of the oldest native communities, who have practiced the art of painting ceramics since pre-Hispanic times. The Reposado is offered in a ceramic decanter in the iconic Clase Azul shape with a pewter closure that demonstrates the great love and care for the spirit inside the bottle.

PRODUCTION:

The Plata is produced in the town of Jesús Maria – one of the highest points in Los Altos, or highlands, region of the state of Jalisco which gives a very unique flavour profile to the tequila.

Tequila Clase Azul Reposado is crafted from hand-selected agave that have matured for at least 9 years. The agave piñas are slow cooked whole with steam for 72 hours in traditional stone ovens. The piñas are allowed to cool naturally before undergoing artisan milling, fermentation is undertaken with secret proprietary yeasts and then carefully distilled in a copper pot stills to ensure the highest quality spirit. Triple filtration before extended ageing for 8 months in fine small American White Oak barrels selected by the master distiller.

TASTING NOTE:

This Reposado (aged) tequila is intense amber in colour, with a surprising silky and rich body. Soft on the nose; it displays harmonious notes of aromatic oak, fresh agave, pepper, vanilla and toffee caramel. These entrancing flavours are carried through onto the palate. The ageing time gives this sipping tequila an amazing balance, body and flavour profile.
